Supply Chain Management

Store-All can manage as much, or as little, of the supply chain that the customer is comfortable with. From providing single elements such as warehousing or transport to combining numerous elements to provide sophisticated, evolving bespoke solutions, we have the skillset, expertise and willingness to mix and match and scale up or down the range of services we offer to best suit the needs of every customer, big or small.

In an ever-changing economic climate, businesses that will remain successful are those that are nimble, flexible, proactive and able to adapt to the external factors that are all the time 'shifting the goalposts'. Smart businesses have recognised in recent times that their supply chains are often overcomplicated, overloaded and cumbersome and have found that targeting this area for lean improvements helps them to significantly reduce waste, inefficiencies and cost.

An efficient supply chain can dramatically change the face of how you do business, from Supplier Hubbing and Just In Time (JIT) deliveries negating the requirement for running your own warehouse. That frees up the warehouse space and dedicated staff to be better utilised in core activities to drop-shipping products for internet sales. With such planning you no longer need to touch the product you are selling and the evidence is overwhelming that the 'supply-chain revolution' (first coined here) is fast becoming this centuries industrial revolution.

Why not join the Supply Chain Revolution and don't get left behind

If you have a distribution requirement, you will be all too familiar with the need for accurate and cost effective order fulfilment. The pick and pack service is a critical element in your offering and a key competitive advantage in you winning and retaining customers.

The growth of internet use means that more people are buying and ordering products online for delivery to home or office. Store-All can manage the process which takes place from the point of sale of any product to the delivery of that product to the customer.

- ✓ Taking and recording the customers` request by internet or phone.
- ✓ Picking and assembling the components of the order.
- ✓ Securing, packing, labeling and addressing the consignment.
- ✓ Shipping the consignment to customer by truck, van, mail, etc.
- ✓ Maintaining computerised stock records for re-ordering.
- ✓ Ordering and securing replacement stock.
- ✓ Recording complaints and processing returns.

The nature of order fulfilment contracts means that the central assembly hub can be located anywhere in the country, particularly with our nationwide distribution arrangement.

Transport is an integral part of the logistics service we provide to our customers. We were encouraged by some of our key warehousing customers to provide them with a transport service and we acquired our first goods vehicles in July 2009. We have since expanded the fleet and our inclusive logistics service has strengthened relationships with key clients, bringing them efficiencies of time, cost and administration, and above all quality.

Our fleet is completely flexible so that our customers who need full or part loads are facilitated. We have a varied fleet, comprising artics, rigids with tail lifts as well as vans. Our trailer fleet includes box trailers, curtain siders, flats, skelly trailers and double-deck curtain siders.

Our drivers are professional, competent, diligent and, above all, customer friendly. We have the necessary insurance cover with reputable insurers and we comply with all transport regulations, as they apply today. We are members of Irish Road Hauliers Association (IRHA) and regulated by the Road Safety Authority (RSA).

Store-All is also a member of The Pallet Network (TPN) which operates a nationwide next day pallet delivery service from its sorting facility in Blanchardstown, Co Dublin. We are one of 24 regional members, strategically located throughout the country, handling up to 2000 pallets per night, with the capacity to increase if required.

Freight Forwarding

We organise international transportation of goods by land, sea and air. We currently provide an extensive range of logistics services and with Irish export figures showing steady improvement, it is not surprising that Store-All has entered the freight sector.

With our head office strategically located at Belview Port, otherwise known as the Port of Waterford, we are ideally situated to manage the movement and storage of raw materials and finished inventory.

There are clearly two distinct flows relating to freight management and both are equally important, one being the flow of documentation and data, the other being the movement of the specified goods.

Customs and Revenue Authorities have been increasing the level of control over international shipments since the events of 9/11 and our Customs Clearance Service ensures that goods are properly classified for the application of Duty and Vat. We are also approved by Irish Revenue as an Authorised Economic Operator (AEO), acknowledging that Store All Logistics has reached the highest standards in relation to security, management systems, customs compliance and ongoing solvency. This enables the pre clearance of exports to certain countries and eliminates unnecessary border delays.

Store-All Logistics operates a substantial amount of dry warehousing in various configurations as part of its logistics offering, which can be seen elsewhere on this site.
